ALONE WE CAN DO SO LITTLE
TOGETHER WE CAN DO SO MUCH

"It's a Friday afternoon and the phone rings at The Salvation Army. The woman says, "I have no food". A child is crying in the background. The question is asked, "What do you need?", and "What's going on in your life?"

Sara was new to town, fleeing an abusive relationship. She had a car and a place to stay for herself and her 8-month old son. We were able to supply her with a 'hold-over bag' which provides an emergency supply of food and diapers to get her through the weekend. We then scheduled her for a trip to our 'Client Choice' food pantry, which is possible through funds from United Way. When she returned, Sara not only received food but was also given information about other resources in the community.

When you support United Way, you support a network of nonprofit programs that are dedicated to addressing the needs of health, education, and financial stability to the most vulnerable in our community.
